

The DPT Dispatch

Past • Present • Future

Happy May Everyone!

DPT has had a busy spring so far with both Spring Fling and our Afternoon Tea. We are looking forward to our next History Alive and summer camp will be here before you know it. If you haven't stopped by the farm lately, plan to do so in the next few weeks. The property is beautiful these days, particularly our rose trellis which is in full bloom next to the fountain. This garden made the top gardens list by the AJC last year so don't miss it.

History Alive - Fighting Fascism with Film

Join us at our next History Alive presentation on Saturday, May 15, from 9:30am to 11am. John Thomas (Tom) Scott, Ph.D, will detail how American film makers used both documentaries and feature films from 1941 to 1945 to support the war effort. The program will feature clips from movies such as Mrs. Miniver, Casablanca, and They Were

To be held at the Donaldson-

Expendable as well as clips from documentaries made by Hollywood directors such as John Ford and Frank Capra.

Bannister Farm, outside under our tent covering the barn patio. $5 for DPT members, $10 for non-DPT members. No reservations required!

An Eventful April!

This past month was a busy one for DPT! We had perfect weather for our Spring Fling event, and it was great fun for all who attended. Families enjoyed petting the farm animals, making Spring crafts, and playing in the bubble machine.

We also had a lovely Afternoon Tea with guest speaker Angela Renals of Destination Tea this past Sunday!

Help Design a History Curriculum

Retired Educators - Dunwoody Presentation Trust (DPT) is seeking your input in designing a student curriculum for Historic Dunwoody Tours and school related resources for use both inside and beyond the classroom in a way that will connect people and history in an innovative way. Experience in aligning the curriculum to the "Georgia Standards of Excellence (GSE)" is vital.

Preserving Dunwoody's Architectural Past

Be sure to check out the latest Dunwoody Guidebook by the Dunwoody Chamber of Commerce and read their article about how Dunwoody has worked to preserve its past. DPT has been involved in several of the preservations and restorations.
